Building a Better B.C. - Highlights Budget 2017 Update

FENTANYL EMERGENCY

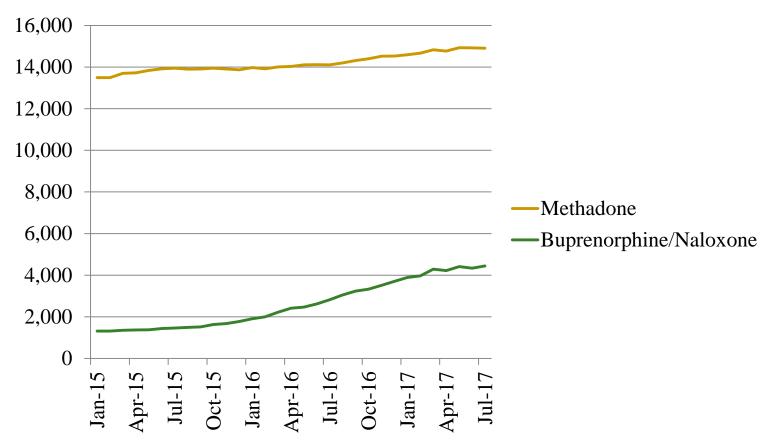

The human and social costs of the fentanyl crisis continue to grow as more lives are lost to preventable opioid overdoses. Our government is working on a broad strategy to improve mental health and addictions services. Funding for that strategy starts in this budget update with a $322 million investment. This funding immediately flows to Health Authorities for prevention, early intervention, treatment, and recovery efforts. The investment also supports the new Ministry of Mental Health and Addictions and gives additional resources to the Ministry of Public Safety and Solicitor General to help deal with this crisis.

Provide Help Quickly When People Ask

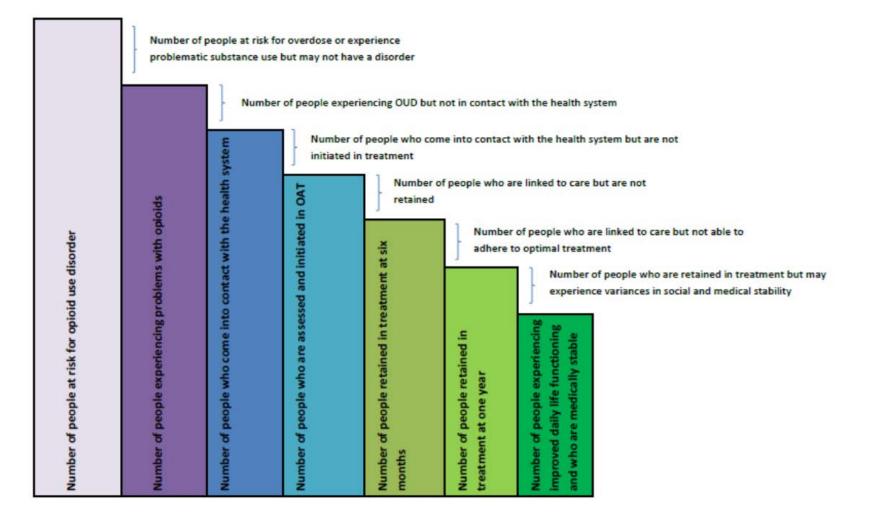

- Build an improved treatment system by concentrating substance use services to ensure rapid access
- Target interventions to reach populations at greatest risk of overdose
- Support providers to deliver evidence-based care

Opioid Agonist Treatment of BC Patients on OAT (Jan 2015 – July 2017)

Opioid Use Disorder Cascade of Care

WHAT DID THE DATA SAY?

non-First Nations to experience an overdose event

Nations to die due to an overdose

WHERE DO WE GO NEXT?

SYSTEM-WIDE OPIOID PUBLIC HEALTH RESPONSE FOR FIRST NATIONS IN BC

- Prevent people who overdose from dying
 - Keep people safe when using substances
- Create an accessible range of treatment options
- Support people on their healing journeys
