Hi

My comments:

Enough is enough !!

That area is already so highly densely populated together with the hugh little mountain projects in progress.

I understand there is no chance for city of Vancouver to change their proposed zoning By-law. What can the poor residents do?

Just wonder how many times City Council listen to the collective voice of the city/residents?

Numbers of units should be reduced in this area, not increasing!!!

All real estate developers will keep buying the land and build more units to make profits at the expense of those poor single-home residents who will see huge increase in noises/garbage/road raffic/accidents/crime/pollution/infrastructure needs (I don't think city will expand the road on MAIN street).

Image your home/backyard suddenly have over 5,000 people living around you! how would you feel?

Little mountain area should be called "Noisy mountain" in future which will take away the beauty of Q.E park!

Regards,
Poor Residents
