s.22(1) Personal and Confidential

Recipient: Vancouver Mayor and City Council

Letter: Greetings,

I am against the proposed amendments to the Downtown Official Development Plan

- The proposed definition of “social housing” removes support for those most in need
- The proposed amendments benefit developers, not people in need of affordable housing
- The DODP and its proposed amendments are not intelligible, simple or direct, as required by law
- The City did not provide sufficient detail for the public to understand the pros and cons of the proposed amendments

I urge the Vancouver Mayor and City Council to vote against the DODP proposed amendments on March 24

Recipient: Vancouver Mayor and City Council

Letter: Greetings,

I am against the proposed amendments to the Downtown Official Development Plan

- The proposed definition of “social housing” removes support for those most in need
- The proposed amendments benefit developers, not people in need of affordable housing
- The DODP and its proposed amendments are not intelligible, simple or direct, as required by law
- The City did not provide sufficient detail for the public to understand the pros and cons of the proposed amendments

I urge the Vancouver Mayor and City Council to vote against the DODP proposed amendments on March 24

Patsy McMillan	Vancouver BC, BC	2015-03-23	This goes against the Supreme Court judgement of fair play in a public hearing context with simple, direct information.
Noy Leksinski	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	These amendments exclude the neediest in Vancouver, while allowing unlimited density for developers and excluding public input. This new definition allows for abuse of the most vulnerable in our city.
Leona Rothney	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-23	ENOUGH IS ENOUGH When will mayor Moonbeam and his Vision cronies listen to the public? Developers have destroyed our city.
Virginia Richards	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	I oppose these Amendments to the Downtown Official Development Plan for all the stated reasons
Jan Koncewicz	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	The proposed amendments are not acceptable, because they: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Reduce City Council oversight 2. Diminish the public's role in providing input in the future of our City 3. Allow City planners to bypass public input 4. Use confusing, inconsistent and conflicting technical jargon 5. Allow developers unrestricted, run-away density 6. Risk increasing homelessness and the price of housing 7. Do not provide sufficient information 8. Increase the power of the un-elected Development Permit Board
Edward Jacobs	Vancouver, BC, Canada	2015-03-23	For all the reasons stated on the petition.
mark angus	vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	The city and specifically the planning department are pulling a "fast one" over the citizens of Vancouver. The new definition of social housing and the extra development rights for developers is a sham.
Randy Helten	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	The reasons listed. This proposal must go back to the drawing board and have proper public consultation, in good faith.
Bonnie Chen	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-23	Think we'll ahead before any action...
Dory Sheldon	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	These changes should be more widely debated rather than passed by a single council motion.
Natalie Lavie	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	The gigantic development would cause crowd, pollution and traffic jams to the beautiful Yaletown core, that is not planned for such density. It would block the light from the our beloved Emery Barnes park. This land was originally planned to become an extension to the park, please let it be!
Stanley Heft	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	Brings too much to the area
Michael Gudmundson	Vancouver	2015-03-23	This is my neighbourhood
jeff garrad	vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	The City needs to start actually doing what they say. Too often the press release says one thing, and the reality is quite different. If the city is to actually provide housing to those that most need it, that should actually happen. All that is happening here is more gifts to the financial supporters of Vision Vancouver while the city issues "happy face" press releases...
John Herter	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	I am not in favour of the proposed amendments to the DODP
William Mizera	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	We need more parks in the downtown core not highrises.
Alicia Hagman	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-23	I want the city to work with it's citizens instead of sitting within four walls and treat OUR city like it's their personal board game to play with.

Marial Shea	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	My neighbourhood matters to me.
Brian Bosworth	Vancouver	2015-03-23	This is just one more case of Vision actions being driven by their developer backers at the expense of neighbourhood livability and consultation. You know, what Gregor apologised for before the election and "promised" he would do a better job at.
Lynne Kent	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-23	I'm signing because this will set a development approval precedent that lacks transparency, bypasses council consideration and eliminates public participation.
eona hortensius	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	I am not in favour of this these proposed amendments to the DOPD. This goes against everything for a quality,livable city.
Loanne Marriott	Burnaby, Canada	2015-03-23	This is opposite my opinion for affordable housing. If you allow big business to build our downtown WITHOUT THE PEOPLES VOICE then you are participating in a monopoly....shame on you, this is not what I voted for. We must take care of affordable housing for everyone as this is the first step to eradicating the marginalized.
Nicole Hayduk	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	I'm signing because I am against the proposed amendments to the Downtown Official Development Plan (DODP) for the following reasons: The proposed definition of "social housing" removes support for those most in need The proposed amendments benefit developers, not people in need of affordable housing The DODP and its proposed amendments are not intelligible, simple or direct, as required by law The City did not provide sufficient detail for the public to understand the pros and cons of the proposed amendments.
Peter Finch	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-23	I still remember the Grandview-Woodland Plan, and despite its rejection by the neighbourhood, I do not believe it is dead yet.
Vanessa Shanks	Vancouver	2015-03-23	I live in this neighborhood and my children play at this park! There is no care or concern for the children or residents if this goes ahead.
Wendy Pedersen	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-23	Low income people on welfare and old age pension and other forms of fixed low income are excluded from social housing definition.
maureen painter	vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	the proposed definition of social housing needs to be publicized & discussed with the citizens of Vancouver and likely amended after a feed back process. The DODP needs to be written so it can be easily understood by the public.
Elin Ife	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-23	WHERE'S PLAN 'B'?
Rider Cooley	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	Both content and lack of clarity in the proposed amendments show remarkable disregard for residents and the ruling of the court.
Glen Pearson	VANCOUVER, BC	2015-03-23	I am sick and tired of the poor being homeless and the city turning their backs on this subject
Mary Simpson	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-23	I'm signing because I want City Council to properly consult with neighbourhoods BEFORE any changes are made to local plans.
lisa freedman	vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Are you nuts..it is already a farce pretending that developers care about low income vancouver residents..of which i am now a member of this club. I am being driven out if my own city because of greed. Saddened by the fact that the city is now in worse shape...even after all of the mayors speeches last election time...I believed in you...and now i might have to leave my birth city , as third generation Vancouverite because the RENTS ARE UNMANAGABLE...when factoring in current wages...This is NUTS

Susan Seok	Richmond, Canada	2015-03-24	This is not fair to the people of Vancouver nor were we given information or the choice.
Dorothy D. Barkley	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I am afraid of the approvals this City Council is granting and their consequences to the citizens of this community.
Brent Ash	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I don't want this to set a precedent which negatively impacts all neighbourhoods in the city, including my own.
Micah Waskow	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I am absolutely opposed to the amendments to the DODP changing the meaning of social housing. These amendments remove elected control over new development, pave the path for developers and actively exclude those for whom social housing has always been intended. Vote this down!!!!
gordon ross	vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	The amendments do not benefit residents. They only support the developers who council members are trying to please more than residents.
Marcos E. Villarruel	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	WE want public consultation
Keri Young	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Social housing definition is not correct
Susan Brinton	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I'm signing because I am opposed to changes to the downtown plan without thorough public input and consultation. Increasing density of the downtown core needs to be done with care and consideration, not just for the benefit of developers.
Christian Brix	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	The proposed definition of "social housing" removes support for those most in need The proposed amendments benefit developers, not people in need of affordable housing The DODP and its proposed amendments are not intelligible, simple or direct, as required by law The City did not provide sufficient detail for the public to understand the pros and cons of the proposed amendments
Shirley Turcotte	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	affordable housing needs to be set at $350 a month not $800+ a month and we need to have a say over where buildings are located..and the size of the buildings.. public consultation is a must!
Shana Dunn	South Surrey, Canada	2015-03-24	My son owns a condo in Yaletown and like many of his friends, would be impacted if this downtown development plan goes ahead. Social Housing has already proven not to work downtown i.e. The Olympic Village. This is at the detriment of the local citizens who pay the bills for all this AND received no prior consultation. It's WRONG!!!
jen nelson	vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	This is a frightening attack on democracy. Language is very important, the city needs to realise: there is much more to good governance than merely saying the right words. Actions speak louder. homeless count will speak volumes. This is colonialism 2.0.
Hardy Scott	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	We must provide those with the greater need adequate and affordable housing. It is a blight on our city when we have so many that are homeless and many with substandard housing and rents that leave the poor without money to maintain an adequate diet.
Claudia Gillard	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I'm disgusted at the undemocratic habits of this City Council.
Jim Fraser	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	The DODP and its proposed amendments are not intelligible, simple or direct, as required by law The City did not provide sufficient detail for the public to understand the pros and cons of the proposed amendments.

Elaine Littmann	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	If you have no plans to support social housing, then make that clear and voters will understand what they are getting -- a party that pays lip service to social needs, affordability and planning.
Conor Douglas	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I am opposed to amendments that creating a new "definition" of Social Housing that specifically excludes low income earners, as well as massive loopholes from zoning restrictions for buildings that have just "some" Social Housing.
Michael Leksinski	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I feel the individuals of the community have not had a fair chance to properly consider the proposed changes.
Stephanie Smith	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Rather than correct its failure to address the city's affordable housing crisis, council proposes to mask the problem by redefining its terms and removing oversight. There's no excuse for this breathtakingly incompetent planning. Send it back.
David Parent	vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	Because this must be stopped to ensure that the real low income people are the ones to benefit from subsidized housing!
Hanna Daber	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I'm currently looking for an affordable rental apartment or basement suite, and it feels hopeless, this city sucks and I give up and leave.
Gail Harmer	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	Insufficient opportunity to study and understand implications for affected residents and businesses. Also, redefinition of 'social housing' is misleading and legitimizes more intrusion of the private market in housing when we should in fact be legitimizing the concept of 'housing as a right' which..like education and health should be protected and offered as publicly funded and protected..not a tax supported market commodity.
Alice Rich	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I am signing because Real Estate has become a resource for investors who have no interest in this City or the neighbourhoods. It is a place to park their money and drive the cost of housing beyond the reach of those who choose to live, work and support local businesses and communities. The building permit office will not be happy until every inch of this city is densified with condominiums, etc. at the sacrifice of heritage and character. Most of us don't even recognize many parts of this city anymore. Where is the diversity when economic classes eliminate our social balance. People are living under bridges and others own apartments that are unoccupied and unrented. Building continues due to greed of developers and the city tax coffers. Developers get a bonuses only to created greater densification. I am at a loss to discover who is the winner other than those who buy the resource of real estate, sell it or build it. We are losing our vision, not just of the mountains and waterways, but the values of community.
Patricia O'Connor	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	There was not enough information about the implications of the changes provided at the Open House held last week.
Brett Carels	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	THIS CITY IS FOR THE PEOPLE NOT DEVELOPERS!
Linnette Wiebe	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	No brainer. It's shameful how many people are on the streets and how many others need 2-3 jobs to cover rent.
Glenn Preston	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Stop changing the DODP!
Jeanne St Pierre	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	this makes no sense whatsoever.
Gerry Ghini	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I was told by planning dept. 5 years ago any building to go up next door would not exceed height of Granville bridge (around 8 stories) not 47 floors!

Joseph Jones	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I have talked at length with a trusted, well-informed neighbor who made the effort to attend last Thursday's open house at Vancouver Public Library. It seems apparent that city planners are feeling forced to front for an agenda that they themselves would never support.
Michael Brown	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Social housing residences belong in buildings designed to accommodate social housing residents.
Laverne Thompson	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I'm signing because Vancouver housing policy should be working towards creating affordable housing for our most vulnerable citizens.
Katherine Dodds	Vancouver BC, Canada	2015-03-24	I judge my government on how they treat the least fortunate. Social Justice is the right thing to do.
Johanna Albrecht	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	It's high time that we save the livability of Vancouver. Much has been destroyed in the rush to make money while we are made to believe that we have to provide quarters for the people "to come". It is important first of all to keep livability for the people who live here. There was never real "input" from the citizens. We are only made to believe that there is. Decisions have ALWAYS been made before the citizens were involved in any kind of process.
murray veronica	vancouver bc, Canada	2015-03-24	because this is another example of Gregor Robertson destroying and degrading Vancouver penelope sloan	vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	all the reasons stated in this petition.
Mark Wirtz	Vancouver	2015-03-24	I'm signing this because I am opposed to the elimination/replacement of "low cost" housing with new higher limit "social housing" and the overall lack of transparency in this process
Noella St-hilaire	Surrey, Canada	2015-03-24	No to proposal downtown amendment
Andrea Thomsett	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	City council is trying to bamboozle us with new definitions!
Alicia Chowen	Surrey, BC	2015-03-24	I'm losing hope on being able to afford owning a home in the city I was born in. Everything is starting to cater to the wealthy and international people.
Wendy Nordvik-Carr	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I do not want developmental changes made without proper input from the citizens it impacts the most. Too many changes have been made without proper consultation and accountability.
Rosemarie Ho	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	The City did not allow for sufficient input from those of us who live in the downtown area. This is OUR home and we should have a say?
Erin Manning	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Sick of the city council only listening to the developers!
Mary Ensom	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I am signing because I am AGAINST the proposed, UNACCEPTABLE amendments!!! I sincerely urge the Mayor and City Council to vote against the DODP proposed amendments on March 24th!
Doug Johnstone	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I think the city should do the honourable thing and await the outcome of the appeal the city launched against the judgement that slammed the planning/public consultation process on development (of course would have been more honourable to abide by the first judgement, but we are dealing with Vision Vancouver here.)
Madeline Sloan	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I grew up in a low income family and this is not how you lift people up.
Ann McQueen	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I want to preserve the possibility of creating social housing in future.
margaret ng	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	sick to the stomach of the City always conniving with developers to change this City into unrecognizable mess

Ilan Givon	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	We shouldn't help the rich newcomer developers who push the city to build unnecessary buildings to be richer on account of the Canadians who were born here.

Kuei-ming Lin	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Please be kind and let people live their lives in peace. Don't destroy people's hopes and dreams with greed.
kate cockerill	Toronto, BC	2015-03-24	The actions of the Vision Team is making Vancouver an unliveable city. The proposed amendments will further the deterioration of what was once a liveable city.
Linda Light	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I am very concerned about the transfer of so much power to the Development Permit Board and the alarming abdication of responsibility by our elected City Council.
Kelsey Heikoop	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I think the proposed changes should require some public input on this magnitude of changes. The main issue is for me is that the permitting board has been given more authority.
Monica Dare	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	People in need have enough battles to fight without taking away their right to housing.
Kathy Bilinsky	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	On behalf of the best interest of the citizens, neighbourhoods and tax payers of Vancouver who require more open and clear information and not the developers and big business and city hall going against due process!
Alley Tsou	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	The DODP and its proposed amendments are not intelligible, simple or direct, as required by law
Lone Nettleton	Viby, Denmark	2015-03-24	To maintain the green areas of the city!
Muryl Geary	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I am tired of the City & Developers trying to pull the wool over our eyes.
Ian Williams	N Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Development must be in the best interests of all its citizens, not the developers and not City Hall
Penny Newman	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	For all the reasons listed but most importantly because the citizens of Vancouver should have a say about their future in this city, not just developers and planners.
Michelle Sturino	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	Downtown Vancouver is losing any potential it has as a vibrant part of the City as it is inundated with massive towers with poor excuses of social housing. The proposed changes help the Developer community, the wealthy and Vision Vancouver 's selfish agenda. Once again you have not addressed the middle to lower income citizen, the homeless and mentally ill nor the issue of affordability. I am voting NO to this proposal as it is flawed for reasons stated in this petition and with the exception of Councillor Carr, the actions of Council proves that the future of this City lies with people not the current Government.
Dallas Jones	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I don't believe the government should be able to change the terms or the law to sit their agenda.
Neil Brown	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	Against forced density to support developers
Jane Teare	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I'm signing because the City did not provide sufficient detail to the public to understand the pros and cons of the proposed amendments. There is a strong possibility of run-away density. It seems that the City planners will be allowed to bypass public input.
Douglas Hill	VANCOUVER, Canada	2015-03-24	This council is and has been out of control. They have no respect for any opinion other than that of the council

Name	Location	Date	Comment
Geraldine Doyle	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	No one at City Hall listens to what the residents of Vancouver have to say. The Public Hearings a complete and utter sham and make fools out of the people who show up to speak. The Mayor and Council think they do not have to answer to anyone and do exactly as they please. They are destroying Vancouver neighbourhood by neighbourhood. Something has to change at City Hall.
Bob Ritter	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	i object to the actions of city council who believe that they can take whatever actions they want and keep the public in the dark.
Vivienne Grande	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I do NOT believe in the amendments.
Doreen & Ted Morgan	Vancouver, B.C., Canada	2015-03-24	City Hall has never been honest about their intentions and are too much in the pocket of the developers.
KRIS MCKINNON	VANCOUVER, Canada	2015-03-24	this is my neighborhood!
Marion Ambler	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	Stop selling out what remains of Vancouver.
deb miller	vancouver	2015-03-24	I'm signing this because this amendment will benefit the developer friends of city hall and not people in need. Enough is enough Gregor!
Jenny Phung	mississauga, Canada	2015-03-24	I love Vancouver and it's a beautiful City. I moved because living cost was ridiculous. I hope to return one day and live there again.
Dorothea Geddert	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	The proposed amendments benefits mainly developers, not people in need of affordable housing. Also the proposed amendments as stated are unclear to lay people and lack information to make them intelligible.
Jil Pybus	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I totally disagree with this new proposed plan - it is all smoke and mirrors
Mary Anne Throop	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I'm totally against this proposal. The government already circumvents zoning laws but at least we have recourse.
Mr mccarthy	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Definition of social housing is TOO HIGH for Rents and Income. We We need to offer rents to lower income people, earning below $25,000 Annually. The New "proposed" definition supports Higher rents and those earning above $40,000.00 Annually.
Teresa Watling	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I don't agree with the change to social housing definition or developers getting density bonuses for providing less housing or more expensive housing the the poor and the working poor can't afford.
Judith Brown	North Vancouver, Cape Verde	2015-03-24	I am opposed to the way the City handled this and am concerned that it will continue with other developments. As a sidebar, once the children of this high density become of school age - where is the infrastructure to handle this - is everyone going to be getting in their cars to take their kids to school. The bullying attitudes have to stop!!!
alwynn pollard	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I love Vancouver. I want to keep it beautiful...and livable.
Dianne Buckland	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I strongly disagree with changes to the DODP. More public consultation is required.
Garth Mullins	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	This cannot be a city run by developers, built for billionaires
Scott Bierwiler	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I feel city council is not taking the full potential; effect of these changes in to consideration

Mark March	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Because this is a sham. Why would the city ruin this beautiful park with a mega tower no one wants. Oh ya the only people that want this don't live in this area. We have very little green space in our neighbourhood and this will only diminish it further. Listen to the people that live here city hall and put this tower elsewhere. And by the way we also have lots of low cost housing in our neighbourhood don't make it like we have none. If this tower and shame density bonus go through what about the 45 million you could of got if you put this site for sale after your sham rezoning. Again take it elsewhere city hall. Don't try and scam us!!!
Quentin Rogers	Vancouver	2015-03-24	enough already!
Alex Bigelow	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	We need to support the poor and middle class and NOT the developers!
Alnoor Abdulla	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	As noted in the petition
Keith Stride	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I'm tired of COV's lack of transparency.
Joan Smith	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I am strongly opposed to the amendments to the DOPD passed without proper and real public consultation.
Rosaline Chan	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Proposed changes are unclear and cannot be trusted
Guy Cross	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Unfortunately, because the City of Vancouver's planning and development policy appears to be entirely devoted to Vancouver as a global commodity, rather than a local community. The City's simplistic supply-side perspective on housing affordability is a failure and further deregulation is not the solution.
Kimiko Hawkes	Roberts Creek	2015-03-24	I'm signing because I care deeply about those people most at risk with this proposed plan, the poor, the homeless, & those in need of social housing.
Eva Ekeröth	Armstrong, BC	2015-03-24	The poor and the middle-class need support not the developers!!!
Jillian Skeet	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	In a democracy, City Council should be working in partnership with citizens to develop a city that meets the needs and collective wishes of neighbourhoods and citizens. Council should not be authorizing projects behind closed doors or handing decision-making power over to developers with the resultant decisions/projects imposed on citizens and neighbourhoods. We were promised before the last election that Vision could do better - it is time to put those words into action. The court has called for more integrity in public consultations, not amendments to change definitions and bylaws to eliminate opportunities for public input. As citizens of Vancouver, we want to live in a democratic city where we are active participants in shaping our neighbourhoods - not on-lookers swept to the wayside. We want to live in a city where we don't need lawyers and judges to try to be heard by those we elect who should be working for us - not against us.
Barbara Becher	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I specifically purchased my condo because the promise of an extended green space to Helmken Street. It is the only green space in the area and a small one at that.
Fred Hercules	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	Sick of the corruption in Vancouvers governing bodies.
Anne Monahan	Vancouver, B.C., Canada	2015-03-24	I am not in agreement with the proposed amendments to the Downtown Official Development Plan. This City belongs to the tax payers and not to the Mayor and the City Planners so they should step back and stop controlling our lives and ruining our beautiful City.

Megan Speers	Vancouver, BC	2015-03-24	I actually work full time in social/supportive housing in Vancouver, and the rates at which they are going to be renting units of new "social" housing ($850 a month for a bachelor apt) is out of my income level despite making an ok living wage. This completely excludes folks who rely on the horrendously low income assistance programs to get by as $850 is more than $200 more than IA provides for monthly income. We need more REAL affordable housing at welfare rates of $375, not housing geared toward upper-middle class people!
Deborah OConnor	Cobourg, ON	2015-03-24	If affordable housing is out of reach for low income people it is useless.
Gord Bradford	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Keep tall building off park designated land and bordering them
Marg. Zibin	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	I am signing this because the Mayor and City Council are deliberately avoiding including the citizens of the City of Vancouver in meaningful discussion concerning the decisions regarding the development of the city which will have a major impact on our lives. We pay taxes - we expect to be consulted about major decisions concerning the planning of the city.
Carl Fitzgibbon	Vancouver, Canada	2015-03-24	Because Vancouver is being robbed by inept fools
