REPORT SUMMARY

Staff received a total of 251 applications requesting a combined total of $11,203,193. This report recommends approval of a total of 201 grants totaling $8,193,993 (Table 1).

Social Policy Grants further Healthy City Strategy goals by providing operating and capital funding to non-profit organizations to:

- Help ensure equitable access to appropriate social services;
- Enhance the ability of community organizations to successfully address social issues and bring about positive social change;
- Maintain and strengthen linkages/integration between community services and programs, City social policies and priorities; and
- Facilitate licensed childcare services.

The 201 grants being recommended in this report encompass a broad range of programs and activities, each of which reflects one or more of the Healthy City Strategy's pillars of Healthy People, Healthy Communities and Healthy Environments and related goal areas. Activities supported by the grants include, but are not limited to:

- activities to support the City of Reconciliation;
- reduction of social isolation;
- elimination of systemic bias against sex workers;
- actions to provide justice for migrants;
- social support for people who have physical and/or developmental challenges;
- outreach to street-involved youth lacking family or other usual social supports;
- supports for seniors experiencing, or "at risk" of experiencing, isolation or homelessness due to age-related challenges;
- the provision of high quality, licensed childcare and supports to families;
- broad-based approaches to tackling the challenge of social isolation;
- funding homelessness prevention initiatives as well as development of new supportive housing for people who are homeless and at risk of homelessness; and

- community-based efforts in pursuit of Greenest City goals.

In 2019, the combined total allocations through the City's social grants program¹ will exceed $9,000,000, reflective of Vancouver's ongoing commitment to supporting community-level programs and services that will help build a Healthy City for All.

Addressing a Social Infrastructure Gap: Marpole Neighbourhood House

Spring 2019 will see the opening of the new Marpole Neighbourhood House (MNH), the first new neighbourhood house to open in the city in nearly 15 years. MNH will be the latest addition to the Association of Neighbourhood Houses, which operates six other houses in Vancouver. For the first year of operation, MNH will operate as a satellite of the long-established South Vancouver Neighbourhood House, which will provide strategic leadership and administration. Marpole is home to culturally, socio-economically, and age-diverse residents, including a diversity of low-income households, seniors, newcomers, and renters. All of these residents enrich the community's character, but are also more vulnerable to negative impacts of existing social and economic barriers.

Leveraged Provincial Funding to Strengthen Early Years Supports:

Urban Indigenous Families

To better support the early learning and childcare needs of Indigenous families in the Vancouver area, the provincial Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) are investing $292,500 over three years to support a partnership with the Metro Vancouver Aboriginal Executive Council (MVAEC) to create an Early Learning and Child Care Planning and Capacity Development position.

UBCM – Fresh Air School Age Care Action Plan

To support the development of a Fresh Air School Age Child Care Action plan in partnership with Vancouver School Board, the City will seek a $25,000 grant from UBCM. The plan will inform the design and implementation of projects on school sites to find outdoor school age care opportunities.

CITY MANAGER'S/GENERAL MANAGER'S COMMENTS

The Deputy City Manager RECOMMENDS approval of the foregoing.

REPORT

Background/Context

Vancouver City Council formally established the Community Services Grants program on March 7, 1978. In the subsequent 40 years, the City's rapid growth in population and diversity has required the continuous evolution of our understanding of how a municipal government can best support the vibrant non-profit sector so vital to a city's overall social and economic health and well-being.

Today, the Social Policy Grants program remains one of the City of Vancouver's key mechanisms for supporting the goals of its overarching social policy framework, the Healthy City Strategy. In 2019, anticipated Social Policy Grants allocations will total more than $9,000,000.

Social grants are administered in the context of a city with acute and persistent inequities across the social determinants of health, including:

- 36% of children enter kindergarten with physical, social, emotional, communication or language vulnerabilities that impact their readiness for school;²
- Costs of living, such as food, childcare and housing are high. 20% of households in Vancouver are classified as in core housing need;³
- 20% of Vancouver residents live below Canada's recently adopted poverty line,⁴ and more than 40% have total family incomes below the equivalent of a living wage;⁵
- Only 54% of adults in Vancouver feel a strong sense of belonging, and only 50% of adults have four or more people in their support network to turn to for help;⁶ and,
- About one in four residents report not having access to health, community and social services when they need them.⁷

These factors profoundly impact people's mental, physical and emotional health and well-being, and there are intersecting social and spatial inequities in how these social determinants of health are realized across the city. Vancouver's population is known for its social, economic, cultural and linguistic diversity:⁸

- Vancouver is home to a young and diverse urban Indigenous population, with 15 thousand residents having an Indigenous identity.
- 52% of Vancouver residents are identified in a “visible minority” group.
- 44% of Vancouver residents have a first language other than English.
- 48% of Vancouver residents were born outside of Canada.
- 53% of Vancouver households are renters.
- 29% of families with children in Vancouver are led by a lone parent.
- 15% of Vancouver residents are age 65 and over, with this group making up more than half of net population growth from 2011 to 2016.

Vancouver's definition of social sustainability includes meeting people's basic needs, building capacity among individuals and communities, and considering the social needs of future generations. City grants provide core funding to programs that work toward a more sustainable city by: providing direct services to people in need; by providing resources for people in equity-seeking groups; and, by enabling upstream, systems-changing work to address social inequities.

Review of the Social Grants Portfolio

In 2017, Social Policy staff initiated a review of the City's Social Grants portfolio. The review was informed by: a comprehensive consultant's study undertaken in 2011; a literature review on good practice for funding bodies; analysis of the non-profit sector; a process and procedures review; surveys and other stakeholder input; and, assessment of Social Policy's current grant administration systems. Five key findings emerged:

1. the need for a clear policy framework;
2. the value of moving to a multi-year funding model;
3. the need to increase capacity-building support to strengthen the non-profit sector;
4. the need for a comprehensive grant management system; and,
5. the need to align grant streams and related reporting requirements.

The actions staff have taken to date to respond to the review findings are described below. Work will continue over the next twelve to twenty four months to complete implementation, with a commitment to review the program again in five years' time (starting in 2022) to ensure practices and procedures keep pace with the city's evolving social, demographic and economic environments.

1. Policy framework

Remaining true to the purposes and priorities established in 1978, today's Social Policy grants statement of intent reads:

Healthy City grants are investments that contribute to a healthy city for all. They support non-profit community-based services that facilitate the physical, spiritual, mental and emotional well-being of people, and:

⁸ Figures in this section from Statistics Canada, 2016 Census of Population.

- Are co-developed and governed collaboratively with and by the communities and individuals they serve;
- Respond to dynamic community needs;
- Reduce the impact of systemic factors that create conditions of vulnerability;
- Facilitate partnerships and networks between the city, other levels of government, business; and,
- Inform and respond to Council priorities.

In addition, eight principles have been established to guide the administration and adjudication of City grants moving forward:

1. Accountability: We embrace ongoing feedback loops with partners to understand City investments and how they influence change.
2. Equity and Inclusion: We strive to build equity in our communities by making grant processes accessible, especially for groups that experience exclusion.
3. Transparency: We are open, transparent, and consistent with our grant making processes.
4. Informed Decision-Making: We inform our grant making using evidence-based research, and consider all data sources, both formal and informal.
5. Balanced Investment Approach: We balance short, medium and long-term investments so that, while addressing immediate concerns, we never lose sight of our goal of effecting lasting systems change.
6. Diversity and Reconciliation: Our grants recognize the unique strengths of our many diverse communities by fostering relationships, helping heal the past, and moving forward with shared understanding and respect – working within the context of Vancouver as the unceded homeland of the Musqueam, Squamish and Tsleil-Waututh Nations.
7. Strategic Alignment: Our grants demonstrate alignment with Healthy City Strategy goals and related initiatives.
8. Partnerships: Our relationships with our community and funding partners are based on trust, respect and transparency.

2. Multi-Year Funding

Many grant recipients have longstanding funding arrangements with the City and are integral components of the social/cultural infrastructure within the city. Multi-year grant funding is common practice with other public sector funding bodies (e.g., Canadian Arts Council, BC Arts Council, several Canadian municipalities); is consistent with recommendations of the Social Policy Grant Program review (Ninow 2011) and Creative City Strategy (in progress); would reduce staff and grantee administrative time; would provide grantees with greater certainty and enhanced ability to plan ahead; and, would streamline reporting to Council.

- The 2018 social grants budget exceeded $10,000,000,⁹ and staff adjudicated approximately 340 grants. The majority of grants have been ongoing for longer than 5 years. While grant amounts ranged from $3,500 to $252,000, the average grant was approximately $33,000.

Staff are working with Cultural Services, Legal and Financial Services to develop a multi-year funding approach and will report back later in 2019.

3. Building the Capacity of the Non-profit Community Social Services Sector

The non-profit sector contributes 8.1% to the Canadian GDP according to Statistics Canada, larger than GDP generated by the mining, quarry and oil and gas extraction sectors. Moreover, the Vancouver Region in 2014 was home to 2/3 of BC's charitable paid workforce and social service non-profits in Vancouver/South Coast spent over $1 billion in the local economy.¹⁰

While data specific to the city of Vancouver alone is difficult to find, research shows that the Vancouver/ South Coast Region is home to almost 1,600 community social service organizations that employ more than 24,000 people (more than double the number working in Arts & Culture).¹¹ In Vancouver, the City's social grants support the work of 245 Social Service Programs. While City funds contribute to an estimated 17% of total revenues for funded organizations, the ongoing yet flexible nature of the city grants are key to the stability of many of the groups we fund.

The non-profit community service sector is key to achieving a broad range of City priorities. In effect, non-profits are the delivery agents for the strategies and programs that support the City's social and community economic development priorities. In addition to providing direct social services, the sector plays a vital role in the community more broadly through:

- engaging volunteers and donors;
- building trust and bringing community members together;
- collaborating with organizations, governments and businesses within and beyond the community;
- providing community education and awareness; and,
- strengthening democratic participation.

The review of the City's social grants program indicated both the need, and a strong desire on the part of the local non-profit sector, for a strengthened City role in supporting the capacity of the sector. Capacity building is an investment in the effectiveness and future sustainability of non-profits, and it goes well beyond funding any one program or service:

Capacity building can be defined as "whatever is needed to bring a nonprofit to the next level of operational, programmatic, financial, or organizational maturity, so it may more effectively and efficiently advance its mission into the future. Capacity building is not a one-time effort to improve short-term effectiveness, but a continuous improvement strategy toward the creation of a sustainable and effective organization".¹²

Over the coming year, Social Policy will identify the best ways in which to leverage the unique characteristics the City brings to the role of capacity builder and staff will report back on an action plan by the end of 2019.

GRANTS RECOMMENDED IN THIS REPORT

This report recommends grants totaling $8,193,993:

1. Community Services Grants;
2. Childcare Operating and Childcare Reserve Grants;
3. Other Social Grants;
4. School Food Program Grant; and,
5. Greenest City Grants.

Application and Review Process for Social Grants

Regularly updated information on the City's social grants is listed on the City's website at <https://vancouver.ca/people-programs/community-grants.aspx>. In addition, current grantees receive email notification approximately one month in advance of opening dates for major grant streams such as Direct Social Services and Organizational Capacity Building (DSS and OCB). In Fall 2018, the Social Policy grants team also hosted three information sessions for organizations interested in applying for grants. The sessions allowed staff to highlight changes in the application forms (based on the social grants program review discussed earlier in this report), to answer grant applicants' questions and to solicit feedback on the application process. Based on the positive feedback from participants at the sessions, the information sessions will now be an ongoing component of future years' grant calls.

In addition to detailed program information, social grant applications require applicants to provide governance and financial details. Applications must be signed by two members of the applicant organization's board of directors. Social Policy staff review all applications for completeness and to ensure they meet eligibility requirements (Appendix L). Staff then conduct detailed reviews using grant program-specific criteria that have been established based on "good practice" for program and organizational management, as well as on alignment with Council priorities. Follow up phone calls or in-person interviews are conducted with applicants where additional information is required.

1: COMMUNITY SERVICES: $6,198,098 (Details in Appendices A – F)

This report recommends a total of 166 Community Services Grants (CSG) for a combined total of $6,198,098.

The CSG is the largest of the Social Policy grant streams. CSG funding helps to address both the impacts and the causes of marginalization by supporting programs and services that reduce conditions that create or exacerbate vulnerability. Many of the organizations, programs and services funded through CSG have received grants for years, reflecting both the City's reliance on the sector, the 'core' nature of the funding provided via the CS grants, and the challenges of addressing persistent systemic issues that create and perpetuate inequality in our city.

The CSGs recommended in this report represent seven distinct grant streams:

- Direct Social Services (DSS) Grants ($4,084,735): grants to non-profit organizations that are working to address specific social conditions and issues and bring about positive social change.
- Organizational and Other Capacity Building (OCB) Grants ($463,676): funding to non-profit organizations that build leadership, governance and strategic planning in the non-profit sector.
- Neighbourhood Organization (NOG) Grants ($1,020,272): annual funding for Vancouver's neighbourhood houses to ensure that they can continue to engage in a variety of activities which strengthen their local neighbourhoods.
- Indigenous Healing and Wellness Grants (IH&W) ($180,000): support access to healing and culturally appropriate wellness supports such as Elder advice, counsel and traditional healing.
- Sustainable Food Systems (SFS) Grants ($184,522): funding to non-profit organizations building sustainable food systems at the neighbourhood scale.
- Rent Subsidy Grants ($114,893): funding to help offset market rent for non-profits operating in Property Endowment Fund premises.
- EMBERS Eastside Works ($150,000): Part of the City of Vancouver's Community Economic Development Strategy, the Eastside Works program helps DTES residents improve their livelihoods by finding part time and flexible work opportunities, accessing training and support, and, connecting to their community and local workforce.

2: CHILDCARE: $1,305,895 (Details in Appendix G - H)

This report recommends a total of 24 Childcare grants to nine organizations for a combined total of $1,305,895.

The childcare grants included in this report are administered through two distinct programs:

- Infant/Toddler Grants (Appendix G) ($637,395): help offset the pressure on parent fees for Infant/Toddler Care.
- Childcare Administration Grants (Appendix H) ($376,000): provide core funding to the Vancouver Society of Children's Centres (VSOCC), which operates 16 city-owned childcares; and, the Westcoast Child Care Resource Centre (WCCRC), which provides a range of supports to childcare/early years sector organizations across Vancouver.

In addition to our regular childcare grant streams, 2019 will see the start of a new early years partnership with the provincial Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) to support both the City's and the Province's commitments to the United Nations Declarations of the Rights of Indigenous People (UNDRIP) and the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action:

- Indigenous Early Learning & Child Care (ELCC) Planner ($292,500): Through a special funding arrangement with the provincial Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD), the City is able fund a new position at the Metro Vancouver Aboriginal Council (MVAEC) for the period from January 2019 to March 2021. The Early Learning & Child Care (ELCC) Planner will build the capacity of Indigenous-focused ELCC programs and services in Vancouver and area.

3: OTHER SOCIAL GRANTS

This report recommends a total of two Other Social Grants to two organizations for a combined total of $310,000.

i. Edgewater Social Responsibility Fund (SRF): $160,000 (Details In Appendix I)

This report recommends a total of four Social Responsibility Fund (SRF) grants to four organizations for a combined total of $160,000.

SRF grants are intended to provide one-time funding for projects that build community capacity and address public safety issues in the Downtown, Downtown Eastside, Strathcona and Mount Pleasant neighbourhoods.

ii. Streetohome Foundation Operating Grant ($150,000):

This report recommends one 2019 operating grant of $150,000 to the Streetohome Foundation.

Established in 2008 through a partnership between the City of Vancouver, the Province of British Columbia and the Vancouver Foundation, Streetohome brings a community and collaborative approach to breaking the cycle of homelessness, bringing together a broad-based coalition of leaders and experts from business, service providers, government, and community sectors.

In particular, it provides a key opportunity to engage the skills and resources of the private sector in our shared goal of preventing and reducing homelessness in Vancouver. A condition of the City's seed funding in 2008 was that the City have the right to appoint a member to the board of the Foundation and that the Foundation report annually to City Council. The City Manager is the City's member on the Board. A summary of the Board's activities and investment is included in the Strategic Analysis section of this report.

4: OTHER GRANTS

This report recommends a total of six grants to six organizations for a combined total of $380,000.

i) School Food Program: $160,000 (Details On Page 11)

This report recommends one School Food Program grant to the VSB totaling $160,000.

School food programs aim to increase healthy food access for students. Programs are located in schools with higher numbers of students who have been identified by the Ministry of Education’s Social Services Index (SSI). The SSI identifies the number of children in care and the number of children whose families are on income assistance.

ii) Greenest City: $220,000 (Details In Appendix J-1)

This report recommends a total of five Greenest City Grants to five organizations for a combined total of $220,000.

The City’s Sustainability Group partners with Social Policy to deliver the Greenest City Grant program. The grants support projects and programs designed to establish, test or scale up ideas or actions that support the City’s Greenest City Action Plan and intersect with the Healthy City Strategy.

IN SUMMARY, this report recommends grants that align with the Healthy City Strategy and other Council priorities. Social Policy grants also help organizations leverage funding from other sources, including other levels of government and foundations, thus increasing overall resources available to support Vancouver’s non-profit sector.

Strategic Analysis

Advancing the Goals of the Healthy City Strategy and Other Key Council Priorities

The Social Policy grants recommended in this report are informed by the Healthy City Strategy and by other Council strategies and priorities, as illustrated in Table 3.

The grants recommended in this report work toward systems change and the Healthy City Strategy's vision of a healthy city for all:

- i. Supporting multiple Healthy City Strategy goals including: A Good Start, by building capacity in the childcare sector; Healthy Human Services, by creating equitable access to high quality social and community services; Being and Feeling Safe and Included, by increasing a sense of belonging and a sense of safety; Cultivating Connections, by creating places and spaces for people to engage and connect; Making Ends Meet, by creating and supporting access to employment opportunities and reducing barriers to poverty; and, Feeding Ourselves Well, by increasing food assets and enabling healthy, just and sustainable food systems.
- ii. Supporting the City of Reconciliation framework and the actions outlined by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission by funding programs for Indigenous peoples that respond to the unique needs of Vancouver's multicultural urban Indigenous population, and by investing in learnings that help our understanding of historical and contemporary Indigenous issues.

- iii. Facilitating actions consistent with recommendations of the Mayor's Overdose Emergency Task Force, which includes preventing overdose deaths and addressing the social determinants of mental health and substance use.
- iv. Responding to priorities of the Housing Vancouver Strategy by supporting organizations providing housing information, referral and other supports to renters and by supporting homelessness prevention initiatives as well as providing new supportive housing for people who are homeless or at risk of homelessness.
- v. Addressing the recommendations of Paige's Story: Abuse, Indifference and a Young Life Discarded, by funding programs that support vulnerable children and youth through outreach and supportive programs that build social cohesion and resilience early in life.
- vi. Supporting work done by the Vancouver Immigration Partnership (VIP) to enhance newcomer integration by funding programs that provide services to, e.g., refugees, isolated immigrant seniors, at-risk immigrant youth and immigrant women preparing for employment.
- vii. Complementing initiatives of the DTES Community Economic Development Strategy to help meet goals of the Downtown Eastside Plan, the Healthy City Strategy, and other directives.
- viii. Facilitating the achievement of the Vancouver Food Strategy goals and targets through grants supporting community organizations that build coalitions of individuals, agencies and businesses to work collaboratively to achieve food systems goals; and, by empowering residents including school staff, children, and youth to engage in their food system.
- ix. Helping to meet the Greenest City Action Plan goals and targets by funding projects that reduce Vancouver's carbon footprint while enhancing the health and resilience of our citizens, community and natural environment.

Note: As most programs indicate significant alignment in multiple goal areas, percentages total more than 100%

Leveraging Funding from Other (non-City) Sources

Community Services Grants (CSG), while comprising a small percentage of organizations’ overall program revenues, typically provide core funding to support key staff, program and leadership positions. On average, a Community Services Grant represents only 17% of the total revenue for the program being funded (see Chart 2). Organizations leverage the City’s contribution to obtain support from a range of other funding sources, including other levels of government, foundations and the corporate sector. On average, the City’s investment is multiplied by an approximately 4 to 1 ratio, i.e., with $4 leveraged for every $1 invested by the City.

New this Year

Marpole Neighbourhood House

This Spring, the City will celebrate the opening of the new Marpole Neighbourhood House (Association of Neighbourhood Houses of BC), a significant addition to Vancouver's community services sector and in particular to the Marpole neighbourhood, which for many years has been served by deficient, aging, and undersized community facilities.

Marpole Place is a valued community asset; it is a 17,000 square foot, 90-year old City-owned "Class B" heritage building. In December 2013, Marpole Place experienced a flood that damaged the building's electrical system, fire system, and the interior, rendering the facility unusable. Community members expressed strong support to renovate Marpole Place for community use as well as provide adequate space for family place programming. In 2014, Council approved the Marpole Community Plan. The Plan included policy direction for the renewal of Marpole Place, which was identified as a priority investment in the Plan's Public Benefits Strategy, with target delivery by 2024.

In 2016, the Association of Neighbourhood Houses of BC (ANHBC) bid successfully on the RFP to operate Marpole Place once the building was rehabilitated. Over the past more than two years the City has undertaken extensive renovations – including restoration of the kitchen, energy upgrades to the insulation, upgrades to exterior windows, and replacement of fixtures and cupboards where required - and it is anticipated that in Spring 2019, the building will reopen as the new Marpole Neighbourhood House (MNH). For the first year of operation, Marpole NH will operate as a satellite of the long-established South Vancouver Neighbourhood House, which will provide strategic leadership and administration.

Indigenous Healing and Wellness Grants Program

In 2018, staff completed a review of the two year pilot of the Indigenous Healing and Wellness (IH&W) grant program.

In February 2017 Council approved a total of $150,000 to pilot and evaluate Indigenous healing and wellness activities. The move was in response to findings of the Mayor's Task Force on Mental Health and Addictions (2013-2016) and, in particular, to recommendations contained in the Aboriginal Health, Healing, and Wellness in the DTES Study.

The Aboriginal Healing and Wellness Grants program was launched in July 2017, in response to the pressing need to increase support for Indigenous-specific programs in the DTES, with the goal of moving all area services toward incorporating traditional, cultural and spiritual health and healing supports as part of programming. The need for services is particularly urgent given the overrepresentation of Indigenous people impacted by the opioid crisis. Eight organizations received grants, for a total of $148,000, to support a range of programs and program activities, with a key focus on providing adequate support and compensation for Elders involved in providing services. The same eight organizations received IH&W grants for 2018, as a continuation of the 2-year grant program pilot.

In Fall 2018, an Indigenous consultant was engaged to conduct a review of the grants program, with a specific focus on identifying the degree to which the grants had achieved the program's three key objectives:

1. Increase access to Elder services and Indigenous traditional, cultural and spiritual services;
2. Improve integration of Elder services and Indigenous healing and wellness activities into mainstream health services; and,
3. Improve health and wellbeing outcomes.

The review was completed by the end of December 2018. It found that Indigenous Healing and Wellness grants significantly impacted organizations' ability to more fully support Elders and other traditional knowledge keepers in offering Indigenous traditional, cultural, and spiritual services. The consultant found that, rather than being restricted to one specific program or location, Elders worked across organizational programming, often supporting many programs, services, and initiatives.

There was strong support for ensuring the pilot program became a permanent grants program for the City of Vancouver and for the City to explore expanded funding opportunities in consultation with Vancouver Coastal Health (VCH), the First Nations Health Authority (FNHA), and other funding bodies. A staff person from VCH Aboriginal Health participated in the review, and discussions are underway with VCH to explore the potential for co-funding of the IH&W grants program in future years.

The Mother's Day Traditional Pow Wow was identified as a priority by urban Indigenous women in Vancouver, the Urban Indigenous Advisory Committee and over fifty organizations in April 2017 during a consultation to determine how the City could support families and survivors participating in the National Inquiry into Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls (April 2018). There was strong support for providing participant access to healing and wellness supports before, during, and after the Inquiry, including the re-establishment of the Mother's Day Traditional Pow Wow. With City funding, the Pow Wow was relaunched on May 13th 2018 after a decade hiatus. The final report on the event indicates it was very successful, with keen interest on the part of Indigenous residents to reinstate the annual cycle.

Based on the positive results of the program review, the continuing shortage of culturally appropriate health services for Indigenous people, and the City's continued commitment to Reconciliation principles, staff are recommending that the City continue funding the IH&W grants program at the 2018 level for a total of $180,000, $20,000 of which will support the 26th annual Mother's Day Traditional Pow Wow.

2: CHILDCARE GRANTS: $1,305,895

A Shifting Landscape: Provincial Changes in Childcare Funding

The 2018 Provincial Budget introduced significant childcare investments for both families and childcare providers as first steps toward implementation of universal, affordable childcare. See Appendix M for additional background.

Childcare Grants Recommended in this Report

We received 24 applications for 2019 childcare funding, all of which are being recommended in this report.

i) Childcare Administration Grants: $376,000

Staff recommend two annual operating grants as outlined in Table 5: one to the Westcoast Child Care Resource Centre (WCCRC); and, one to the Vancouver Society of Children’s Centres (VSOCC).

Table 5: Total 2019 Recommendations for Childcare Administration Grants

SUMMARY (See Appendix G for Details)	RECOMMENDED
Westcoast Child Care Resource Centre (WCCRC): Supports City-wide early learning and care, information, training and referral services	$252,000
Vancouver Society of Children’s Centres (VSOCC): Supports administration and management of City-owned childcare facilities in high density developments in the downtown core	$124,000
TOTAL	$376,000

WCCRC provides a range of core services including: training and resources for childcare staff to improve quality programming; providing parents with childcare resource and referral (CCRR); operating a specialized library; and, providing sector expertise in management and governance issues related to childcare. Social Policy staff have initiated discussions with the Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) regarding the potential for future shifts in provincial investments in CCRR and other services currently offered through WCCRC and will continue to maintain communications with the ministry as provincial plans unfold.

VSOCC was created by the City in 1995 to operate and steward City-owned childcare amenities in the downtown core. It currently operates 16 childcare centres with 772 licensed spaces serving approximately 1,600 children/year (number served higher than total number of spaces due to part-time sharing of spaces). Social Policy staff have initiated discussions with VSOCC regarding the potential to increase access to childcare spaces by low-income families as a result of increased provincial investments, and will be monitoring this over the coming year.

ii) Infant/Toddler (IT) Grants: $637,395

Infant/Toddler (IT) spaces are the most expensive childcare programs to operate due to the high child-to-staff ratios required for the care of very young children (0-36 months). IT Grants help to offset these costs and support the sustainability of IT spaces/programs while also offsetting costs to parents. Two of the programs receiving city IT grants have recently been designated provincial Universal Child Care Prototype sites (see Appendix M), and staff will be monitoring financial and program reports to assess whether the new model has implications for ongoing need for the city grants.

Table 6: Total 2019 Recommendations for Infant/Toddler (IT) Grants

SUMMARY (see Appendix H for Details)	RECOMMENDED
21 Infant/Toddler Grants to help offset the high cost of opening and operating infant/toddler care in facilities located in high density and/or new and emerging neighbourhoods.	$637,395

iii) Indigenous Early Learning and Child Care Planning and Capacity Development (Metro Vancouver Executive Council - MVAEC): $292,500

In order to ensure that the early learning and childcare needs of Indigenous families in the Vancouver area are met, the Ministry of Children & Family Development (MCFD) will invest $292,500 over three years in the City of Vancouver to partner with the Metro Vancouver Executive Council (MVAEC) to create an Early Learning and Child Care (ELCC) Planning and Capacity Development position. This position will work with Indigenous and Métis organizations to support the implementation of the provincial Early Years Service Framework, the BC Child Care Plan and the Indigenous Early Learning and Child Care Framework through coordinated planning, capacity development and relationship building across government and the early learning and childcare sector. This is an important step in the development of a strong, inclusive early learning and childcare system.

The City has had an ongoing partnership with MVAEC since its creation in 2009 and values its mandate to support a united voice for urban Indigenous people living in Metro Vancouver and to strategically plan for programs and services for this population. MVAEC is comprised of 24 Indigenous organizations representing a diverse range of programs, services, and mandates across Metro Vancouver.

The existing Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between the City of Vancouver and MVAEC to work cooperatively and collaboratively in the interest of the urban Indigenous population will contribute to the effectiveness of this position. It is a condition of this grant that a project agreement between the City and MVAEC for the provincial ELCC funds will be in place prior to funds being released.

Table 7: Recommended Grant to MVAEC – Early Learning and Child Care Planning and Capacity

SUMMARY	RECOMMENDED	CONDITIONS/ COMMENTS
1 grant to Metro Vancouver Executive Council (MVAEC) to support an Early Learning and Child Care (ELCC) Planning & Capacity Development position that will support the implementation of the provincial Early Years Service Framework, the BC Child Care Plan & Indigenous Early Learning & Child Care Framework.	$292,500	CONDITION: Release of first payment subject to a signed project agreement between MVAEC and the City of Vancouver.

3: OTHER SOCIAL GRANTS

i. Edgewater Social Responsibility Fund (SRF): $160,000

The Edgewater Social Responsibility Fund (SRF) is supported through an annual contribution (currently, $300,000) from the operations of the casino at 39 Smithe Street. SRF grants support projects that operate primarily within the Vancouver neighbourhoods of Downtown, Downtown Eastside, Strathcona, and Mount Pleasant, and that target vulnerable populations, including the demographic profile of casino patrons.

There is currently no separate application process for SRF Grants. Rather, applications for Direct Social Services (DSS) or Organizational Capacity Building (OCB) grants which do not meet the criteria for those programs but which do address Council priorities and meet SRF grant program criteria, can be recommended for funding.

Table 8: Total 2019 Recommendations for Social Responsibility Fund (SRF) Grants

SUMMARY (see Appendix I for Details)	Amount
4 SRF grants for projects that support Indigenous people, Chinese-speaking seniors and coordination of services and economic development initiatives in the DTES.	$160,000

This report recommends SRF grants for 4 projects (Appendix I). The grants will support projects that will:

- bring together local Chinese-speaking seniors as leaders on an advisory committee to discuss issues of importance and impact, generate solutions, advocate for change and collaborate with service providers on program design and delivery;
- coordinate the work of community economic development (CED) organizations in the inner city to better understand resident needs, and identify and support projects aligned with the City's DTES CED plan, the Healthy City Strategy, and other poverty reduction initiatives;
- provide diverse urban Indigenous community members with support and connection to culturally appropriate health, housing, and harm reduction services; and,
- provide coordination support to deepen and broaden engagement and share data and tools amongst inner city social service in four areas of focus: Children and Families; Poverty Reduction; Urban Planning and Land Use; and, Urban Indigenous Inclusion and Representation.

ii. Streetohome Foundation: $150,000

For the last 8 years, Council has approved an annual operating grant to Streetohome Foundation. Between 2011 and 2015, the grant was in the amount of $125,000/year, and in 2016 the grant was increased to $150,000. In 2018, the City grant represented approximately nine percent of the Foundation's total revenue, with other funding sources including BC Housing, Vancouver Coastal Health, and the private sector. The organization leverages significant private sector donor funds ($1.2 million in 2017) as well as other public-sector investments in order to add value.

Table 9: Recommendation for Streetohome Foundation Operating Grant

SUMMARY	Amount
1 grant to the Streetohome for operating dollars for 2019. Operating funding from the City of Vancouver allows Streetohome to maintain its commitment to expending donor dollars directly for homelessness prevention initiatives as well as new supportive housing for people who are homeless and at risk of homelessness.	$150,000

Since 2008, Streetohome has contributed more than $31 million to supportive housing and prevention projects. By the end of 2017, the Foundation had committed to 23 buildings, providing 1,352 homes. It is also exploring a private-sector role in addressing the root causes of homelessness, including unemployment and addiction. And, since its inception in 2012, the Vancouver Rent Bank (a Streetohome-funded project) has approved 662 loans and helped 892 individuals, including 206 children, from becoming homeless.

Streetohome commits significant resources to a number of initiatives that facilitate Council's goals under Housing and Homelessness, Healthy City for All, and Mental Health and Addictions strategies, including:

- Supporting Tenants, Enabling Pathways pilot project, in partnership with BC Housing, the City of Vancouver and Vancouver Coastal Health. The program seeks to ensure supportive housing units in Vancouver are occupied by people who are most in need of supports, and those who can live independently have support to move on to other affordable housing options.
- Homeward Bound, launched in 2018, provides individuals who are homeless or at risk with transportation back to their self-identified home community to enable access to supports in their home town.
- WorkWithUs was launched in 2017 to facilitate employment opportunities for people who have lived experience of homelessness or are at risk and that align with their capabilities and preferences.

Streetohome supports evidence-informed and outcome-focused addiction recovery pathways to help people facing addictions. For example, $500,000 capital funding was committed to The HUB operated by St. Paul's Hospital as well as Youth Support Recovery Homes operated by Pacific Community Resources Society. Streetohome is also investigating promising practices that can be adapted in Vancouver in order to fill gaps in the addiction recovery system.

4: OTHER GRANTS

i. School Food Grants

In December 2014, Council designated $400,000 to enhance student access to healthy food. City funding augments annual provincial funding that VSB allocates to school food programs. The City's financial support for healthy school food programs enables more low income students to receive the school day nourishment that they need in order to learn.

Table 10: Recommendation for Grant to VSB for the School Food Program

SUMMARY	Amount
1 grant to the Vancouver School Board (VSB) support for healthy school food programs enables more low income students to receive the school day nourishment that they need in order to learn.	$160,000

From 2015 to 2018, $320,000 per year was allocated to the Vancouver School Board's delivered lunch program from the ACCS operating budget and $80,000 per year to the Strathcona Community Centre Association (CCA)'s breakfast program from the ACCS grants budget. Other funding has also been provided to non-profit organizations for school food projects, including one-time funding to Fresh Roots, a local non-profit that implements school-based farms in partnership with schools and students, to pilot a universal meal program that will launch May 2019.

Over the past three years, costs of the VSB meal provision supported by CoV have increased from $7.58 per lunch in 2015 to $8.72 in 2018, which has led to a reduction in students served from 258/day to 200/day. Other meal programs are delivered more cost-effectively and oftentimes include food and leadership skill building. In 2017, VSB commissioned a food services review intended to increase the number of children who benefit. VSB staff will develop a three-year food services plan by April 2019.

Arising from the February 26, 2019 Council motion, City staff recommend a grant of $160,000 to VSB in addition to the $160,000 approved by Council on February 26, 2019, for a total of $320,000, to enable VSB to complete meal programming until December 2019. Funds will be disbursed in two payments: a first payment of $160,000, to be released immediately; and, a second payment of $160,000, to be released upon meeting the conditions set out in Recommendation M of this report. VSB and City staff will discuss the VSB's three year food services plan in April 2019, and report to Council in July 2019 with an update and recommendations for future school food program funding.

ii. Greenest City Grants: $220,000

The City received 24 applications for 2019 Greenest City Grant funding, five of which are being recommended for funding (Appendix J-1). 19 are not being recommended (Appendix J-2).

Table 11: Total 2019 recommendations for Greenest City Grants

SUMMARY (see Appendix J-1 for details)	Amount
5 Greenest City Grants for projects that establish, test or scale-up ideas or actions that support the Greenest City Action Plan and advance other City priorities within the context of the Healthy City Strategy.	$220,000

The Greenest City Grant Program was established in 2012 and has been co-administered by the City's Sustainability Group and Social Policy since 2017.

5: APPLICATION TO UBCM (FRESH AIR SCHOOL AGE CARE ACTION PLAN)

Staff request that Council endorse an application for a UBCM grant in the amount of $25,000 to support the development of a Fresh Air School Age Care action plan. Council endorsement is stipulated by UBCM as a condition of grant awards.

As of October 2018, approximately 35% of the estimated need for licensed school age care (before/ after school care) for children ages 5-12 had been met. An estimated shortfall of 9,000 licensed school age care spaces remains.

By necessity, school age care programs must be located in, or near, schools. The City is working in partnership with the Vancouver School Board to create new school age care spaces, but most school facilities (multi-purpose rooms, portables, etc.) available for school age care are already in use for that purpose. To continue meeting the needs of families in Vancouver, we need to identify new ways of providing licensed programming.

The idea of a "fresh air learning" approach to school age care is rooted in the principle that children benefit greatly from learning in natural environments. Evidence from growing bodies of literature reveal the positive social, emotional, physical, and mental health benefits associated with outdoor learning programs.

In partnership with the Vancouver School Board, the proposed Fresh Air School Age Care Action Plan will inform the design and implementation of future projects on school sites. This low-barrier, outcomes-based approach to school age care can be considered for schools in the city with unmet out of school care need.

Implications/Related Issues/Risk (if applicable)

Financial

Funding for Grant recommendations totalling $8,193,993 and remaining budget balances are summarized in Table 12 below:

Staff will return to Council with recommendations for the remaining social grant balances later in 2019. Grant funds will be released in two payments unless otherwise indicated in the comment section.

CONCLUSION

All the Social Policy grants recommended in this report represent important investments in the delivery and sustainability of social services in Vancouver. The services, programs and organizations being recommended for funding are part of the complex network of non-profits that are working to support the City's liveability, social development and sustainability objectives. City grants provide core funding to programs that work toward a more sustainable city by providing direct services to people in need, providing resources for people in equity-seeking groups, and by enabling upstream, systems-changing work to address social inequities.

NEW PROVINCIAL CHILDCARE INITIATIVES

The Child Care Fee Reduction Initiative (CCFRI) provides a reduction in monthly fees for parents enrolled in programs that voluntarily “opt-in” to the CCFRI. Fee reductions are based on the type of program and are paid to the childcare providers, who then pass on the fee savings to parents. It is important to note that this investment will not create a net budget increase for childcare operators, since the CCFRI simply offsets the previous parent fee revenue. While most centres appear to have opted in, there remain questions about the possible longer term impact of the initiative, including the restrictions on a centre’s ability to raise parent fees.

The following table illustrates the maximum fee reduction and the impact on parent fees in Vancouver-based centres.

Table 4: Fees in Vancouver before and after the Fee Reduction Initiative

Type of Program	Average monthly Parent Fee for programs that opt-in to Fee Reduction Initiative	Average Monthly Parent Fee before Fee Reduction Initiative (as of Sept 2017)	Amount of Maximum Fee Reduction
Licensed Group Infant/Toddler	$1,108	$1,458	$350 / month
Licensed Group 3-5	$886	$986	$100 / month
Licensed Out of School Care	$390 (no change)	$390	Not yet available

In November/December of 2018, the province began implementing its Universal Child Care Prototype Program, which is designed to decrease parents’ monthly childcare costs to $200 or less per child. The low-cost model is being offered at 53 childcare centres across the province, eight of which are located in Vancouver, for a 17-month test period, during which the government will be gathering feedback from providers with an eye on expanding the program.

It is too early to assess the potential impact of the new provincial investments on current City investments in childcare, e.g., whether the new provincial money will be sufficient to reduce or eliminate the need for city childcare operating grants to some centres. Quality licensed childcare is expensive to develop and operate, and any changes in existing funding arrangements must be considered cautiously to minimize the risk of destabilizing already financially precarious programs.

City staff will monitor the direct impact of these and pending provincial childcare/early years initiatives on Vancouver’s childcare programs, including identifying implications for future City funding investments. Even more importantly, staff will be working to assess whether or not the provincial strategies lead to an increase in the number of children and families with key vulnerability factors (e.g., living in poverty) who are able to access licensed childcare. Any future shifts in City childcare funding will likely be targeted at increasing the access of such families to quality licensed childcare spaces.
