With reference to the above rezoning application, I don't care wether it will be approved to build Stacked townhouses or rowhouses up to three storeys, the most important thing is it must be built with it's own parking facilities. For example, if the new building comes with six units, then it must have at least six parking spaces within it's own area such that it won't create parking problems with the neighbourhood houses.

I hope the city Council will consider the above comments.
