CityTalk/CANADA

citywatchcanada.ca, tracks emergency response measures put in place by local governments across Canada. citysharecanada.ca is a crowdsourced, real-time, platform that houses resources, tools and stories on how city builders and residents are responding to COVID-19. CityTalk Canada is our virtual town square, featuring candid conversations, analysis and commentary on the new urban reality under COVID-19.

We've also developed Bring Back Main Street — a coast-to-coast, multi-stakeholder research and advocacy initiative about finding the best solutions to ensure our main streets recover from COVID-19 and emerge from the crisis more resilient than ever.

CityShare / CANADA

A real-time, crowdsourced platform that houses resources, tools and stories on how city builders and residents are responding to COVID-19

This is a time when Canada must harness its community-driven resilience. We're asking you to share examples of how Canadian communities are responding to the crisis with creativity and imagination. Collective problem-solving and collaboration will be instrumental in how Canada mitigates the local impacts of COVID-19 and creates on-the-ground solutions.
