I'm getting increasingly disheartened by the projects that have been stymied by greedy homeowners that have the time, privilege and capacity to pack these city council meetings and air their myopic and petty concerns. As a renter of limited financial means, I don't have the capacity to sit for hours on these calls, but I support the creation of new moderate and affordable housing. Don't let the rich kids bully you again. Enough already.	Roberta McDonald		s.22(1) Personal and Confidential	Kitsilano	No web attachments.

As a millennial, my friends and colleagues are steadily being priced out of our amazing city. We have a housing crisis, and need more homes. This seems like a great development, close to transit options and the Arbutus Greenway. I like the mix of income levels. I work in healthcare, and have no financial incentives. I just want Vancouver to be a vibrant, livable city that's not just for the ultra-rich or those who'll inherit their parent's house.	John-Jose Nunez			South Cambie	No web attachments.
