Properties and rents are getting more expensive and it's hard to find places near the train station. I came as an international student and I know the struggle of having less support from the family and working both outside and inside the campus while taking full time credits. I hope you understand, we don't have anyone kr anywhere else to move and it's hard to find a decent place (if not decent, at least a place to live in a decent community and area for less price). People now taking over Vancouver are richer, not everyone can afford to live on west side. I can't even afford buying a car despite working right now. I've lived here for most of my studies and have become attached by this area. If you ever decide to proceed with renovation, please help us with funding or finding a nice less expensive place to live near train station. My brother will be coming after few years and I would eventually need to find a place but for now I am planning to stay here until he comes.	Gurneel Kaur		[REDACTED]	Oakridge	No web attachments.
