Living on arterial roads has been proven to be very dangerous and bad for people's health, especially seniors and children. They are noisy and polluted. And yet our planners and politicians force almost all new housing on to arterial roads. I guess the message is, if you're rich and can afford a house, you deserve to live on a quiet street. Otherwise, too bad. So I'm very happy to see a project like this one. It's just too bad they are so very rare. Let's get a lot more of them.	Peter Waldkirch	§ 22(1) Personal and Confidential	Fairview
