Being the house adjacent to the proposed structure and a tax paying homeowner, I wonder how elected city council is protecting homeowners who have been faithfully contributing to the economy of Vancouver now being placed in this position. What measures are in place knowing that when my home was purchased it was single family dwellings not zoned for apartments which will now overshadow multiple family homes. Further, there will be impacts to land value, increased noise and higher foot traffic in an area that was not developed with that in mind. I also have concerns about heavy construction and digging next to my home for a structure that size. City council I urge you to reconsider the placement of this structure in the middle of this residential block.	Melissa Crump
