CD-1 Rezoning: 430-440 West Pender Street	Other	At the 430-330 W Pender St site, there are glass sidewalk prisms over top of the areaway. These blocks date back to the building's construction in the 1900s. Today, the glass blocks are illuminated by programmable lighting. As per the Vancouver is Awesome article from Oct 2022, named "why are there glass tiles embedded in Vancouver streets" and the walking tour map on Vanalogue.wordpress.com/2016/04/14/sidewalk-prisms-of-Vancouver , these prisms are a key part of downtown Vancouver's vibrant history. The prisms are regularly shown by the lamplighters walking tour, and echo Seattle's underground walking tour. The plans submitted for the reconstruction of the building indicate that this glass prism sidewalk will be preserved. Is that correct?	David Genest	Downtown
