As we all know, the city faces a growing population and an ever-increasing demand for affordable and accessible housing. This development represents an essential step toward alleviating this pressure by adding much-needed housing units. By increasing the availability of homes, we can help moderate the rise in housing costs, promote greater diversity in our communities, and ensure that Vancouver remains a livable and vibrant city for people from all walks of life. I urge the council to approve this development and support efforts to address our city's pressing housing needs. Sincerely, Martina Carli	Martina Carli	Downtown
