The design of the new building would fit in with the buildings on Broadway, which is less than 200m to the south. The areas around public transit are places where we should be building more, so we can reduce the number of cars on the road when more people come. We should be forward looking, rather than clinging on to the past or the present. People moving to/in Vancouver are hurting, while others are concerned about parking, traffic, and the neighbourhood's look. If someone can get away with not needing a car, then they can have an easier time living here. | Caleb Tran | Sunset | |
