This will support the need for more housing developments in a controlled way in an area that is lacking opportunities for new residents at the moment.	Luis Sarmiento

I've seen neighbourhoods in other cities that very effectively use higher density like this and it is fantastic. Beyond housing being more affordable, it also creates enough density that there can be more retail amenities. Which is great for both residents in the neighbourhood and those employed by the businesses.	Steven Klaiber-Noble	Hastings-Sunrise
